U.S. Forces Hit Close To Line

Take Town Two Miles From North

First Cavalry May Be Spearhead For Drive On Capital Of Reds

TOKYO, Oct. 7 (AP)—An Air Force spokesman said today American forces have captured Kaesong, only two miles south of Parallel 38 on the road to the Red capital of Pyongyang.

The U. S. First Cavalry Division, which has wheeled nearly 200 miles since mid-September, seized the key border city.

On the east coast, South Korean troops were reported within 20 miles of Wonsan, deep in Red territory.

The first advance of the First Cavalry troopers from their last reported position, in the Suwon area 20 miles south of liberated Seoul, indicated they may spearhead the expected big push of United Nations forces on the Red capital.

The Air Force spokesman's report came only a few hours after General MacArthur's summary disclosed for the first time that the cavalry division was north of Seoul.

The summary said the cavalrymen had crossed the Imjin River, 30 miles northwest of the liberated South Korean capital Kaesong, eight miles farther northwest, is the largest city on the fringes of the Red border.

From Kaesong, the Reds made their heaviest invasion thrust against the U. N.-sponsored republic June 25. The city is astride the main highway and rail route to the Communist capital, 92 air miles to the northwest.

There were no details of Kaesong's capture, which was reported to Associated Press Correspondent Hal Boyle by a U. S. Fifth Air Force spokesman. General MacArthur's summary had said the troopers met only scattered resistance in hurdling the wide banks of the Imjin.

Behind the First Cavalry Division, other American, British, Australian and South Korean forces massed for a knockout punch against the reeling Reds. U. S. Marines are at Uijongbu, southeast of Kaesong and 18 miles south of Parallel 38.

Three South Korean divisions are across the parallel on the east coast and along a 50-mile mountainous area inland. The South Korean Third Division was driving north of Hupok, within 20 miles of Wonsan and more than 95 miles north of the border.

Wonsan, a big industrial city, is one of Korea's 10 best ports. The Reds are expected to make a stand there.

Correspondent Boyle reported the Reds were frantically building a defense line anchored to Wonsan on the east and Pyongyang on the west.

Barkley Declares Papers Misquoted Brannan Speech

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley says his comments at Milwaukee on the Brannan farm plan were misunderstood and misquoted.

Mr. Barkley spoke at Democratic party rallies here and at Waterloo, Ia. yesterday. A news conference in both cities he said he had been misquoted at Milwaukee Thursday night.

Mr. Barkley had been reported as saying the administration was not committed to the Brannan plan.

I never said the administration, Mr. Barkley asserted, "I said I was not committed to it and the Democratic party was not committed to it."

He observed that the Brannan plan never has been adopted by any convention or platform. He said he personally is studying it, adding there are some good features in it.

Hiss Files Appeal

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Alger Hiss, convicted as a perjurer who lied when he denied giving secret State Department documents to a pre-war Russian spy ring, yesterday filed an eight-page, 125-page appeal.

Talks Open Next Week On Steel Pay

Murray To Present Arguments In Favor Of Immediate Raise

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7 (UP)—C.I.O. President Philip Murray's United Steelworkers make their big bid for a "healthy and substantial" wage increase for 1,000,000 members next week.

As the 1950 contract talks neared, price increases continued to spread through the industry. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., the nation's fourth largest producer, was the latest to hike prices.

The company yesterday increased its galvanized pipe, wire and nail products from $3 to $8 a ton. Sharon and Pittsburgh steel companies previously announced price increases.

Although the exact schedule of next week's meetings has not been set, some of the negotiations with the nation's 1,400 steel companies will start on a local level Monday. Others will start later in the week.

Mr. Murray has made it clear the steelworkers will not hesitate to strike in support of its undisclosed wage demands.

The union's wage-policy committee called only for a "general pay hike at its two-day meeting in Atlantic City earlier this week. However, some sources believe the union will aim for about 25 cents an hour.

Actually, the meetings next week do not mean the opening of dollar-and-cents negotiations.

Mr. Murray has asked the companies to open wage talks Monday instead of Nov. 1, as provided in the union's contract with the industry, in a bid for ahead-of-schedule pay raises. The industry is not bound to decide one way or another until Dec. 31, after which the union is free to strike.

In their replies, however, none of the companies agreed specifically to talk money. They merely said they would listen to Mr. Murray's reasons why he thinks the union members deserve an early wage increase.

United States Steel Corp., the giant of the industry, is the only major producer which has not replied to the union's request for early talks. The company said it will decide that point next week.

Bell Telephone Union To Seek Early Raise

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—C.I.O. Communications Workers union began spade work today on a move it hopes will bring voluntary wage increases for 250,000 telephone workers.

C.W.A. President Joseph A. Beirne sent word to his 33 divisions to propose that Bell System companies using the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. facilities offer a wage hike—whether contracts allow them or not. The movement will begin on Monday.

Mr. Beirne said it was prompted by a union desire to offset "the interest of its membership" — increases in the cost of living since the Korean invasion in June.

Papers Still Closed

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7 (AP)—From three to five million people who depend on the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and Pittsburgh Press face a Sunday without their news papers because of a strike by 200 A.F.L. mailers.

Throw In Star Rookie

Yanks Aim At Win Today To Wind Up Series Battle

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—The New York Yankees called today on their rookie pitching sensation, Eddie Ford, to make it first straight over the Philadelphia Phillies and wind up the World Series.

The day dawned gray and humid with occasional sunshine and no rain forecast. At 9 a. m. the temperature was 58 and rising. As has been the case ever since A. B. Chandler became commissioner of baseball, the weather—an uncertainty all season—has presented no real problems for the World Series.

Manager Eddie Sawyer of the Phillies was undecided whether to pitch Bob Miller or Bubba Church. Whatever his choice, the Yankees are favored to win by odds of 5-12. The odds that they will win the series, of course, are astronomical—say 1 to 50. No team, beaten three times, ever has come back to take the best-of-four-out-of-seven contest.

The combination of Saturday and a possible climax in the series brought out a big crowd early. By 7 a. m. there were 2,500 people

Appreciation Night

Hi-Teen 'Kicks In' $111 For Fund

AS A GESTURE of gratitude to the Community Fund for helping to keep the doors of the Hi-Teen open, high school students dug down in their purses last night and collected an "appreciation fund".

When the last coin had tinkled in the collection box in the busy recreation center in the basement of the Y.M.C.A., the total turned out to be a whopping $111.57.

In this photo, the students who arranged and supervised the collection turn over the proceeds to B. E. Warner (right), general chairman of the Fund's forthcoming drive, which opens Oct. 16.

Laughlin, president of the Senior Hi-Y, and Dorothy Flick, president of the Hi-Tri.

All three organizations are affiliated with the Y.M.C.A., which supplies the room the Hi-Teen uses and a number of other services.

The goal had been $80—but the students didn't stop there.

West End Boy Injured When Struck By Car

3 Minor Auto, Truck Mishaps Also Listed In Friday's Traffic

A West End youngster suffered a possible nose fracture and other injuries Friday night when struck by an auto as he crossed West Eighth St. after the football game at Patterson Field.

Leonard Oliver, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Oliver, 715 West Eighth St., was released after treatment at City Hospital. Police said he was hit about 10 p. m. by a 1938 model car driven by Thomas E. Lanam, 26, of 808 Commerce St., Wellsville.

Mr. Lanam told police the boy darted into the path of his west-bound auto, coming from between two other cars that were stopped for a traffic light.

In addition to the possible nose fracture, the child suffered contusions of the nose, upper lip and ribs, the hospital said. He was X-rayed this morning.

Three minor collisions also were reported Friday afternoon (Turn to TRAFFIC, Page 3)

HARLEN K. BOARD
He's hospitalized in Japan.

Hammondsville Youth Hurt In Korean Fighting

HAMMONDSVILLE, Oct. 7 (Special)—The Defense Department has advised Mr. and Mrs. William Board of Hollow Rock that their son, Private Harlen K. Board, 19, was wounded Sept. 20 in the Korean war.

A member of the Seventh Infantry Division, Private Board had been in Korea since July. He attended Port Homer School and Toronto High School before enlisting in July, 1949. He is a grandson of Mrs. Eulalia Board of Hammondsville.

His evacuation to a hospital in Japan had a happy climax. He was placed in the same ward with a former buddy and Columbiana county resident—Private Keith Brooks of Leetonia—who was wounded earlier.

2 Lisbon Marines Among Korea Wounded

LISBON, Oct. 7 (Special)—Two Lisbon Marines have been listed as wounded in the Korean fighting, according to word received by relatives.

Sergeant Robert Applegate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Applegate of Brookfield St., and husband of Mrs. Mary Applegate of Midway Park, N. C., was wounded Sept. 27.

Sergeant Applegate entered the service in February, 1943. Sergeant Ed Mullen, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Mullen and husband of Mrs. Loretta Hough Mullen of Lisbon, was wounded in the left shoulder Sept. 23.

Sergeant Mullen, a Marine Corps veteran of World War II, was recalled to service as a replacement on Aug. 7, and after training in California, went overseas on Aug. 27.

Insane Convict Nabbed Easily At Cincinnati

Tries To Grab Purse Of Woman Outside Police Headquarters

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7 (AP)—A young, crazed convict, who cunningly dodged road blocks and a state-wide police dragnet since Thursday, was seized just a few steps away from a police station here last night.

Law agents of two states—Indiana and Ohio—had been put on the trail of 23-year-old Roger Preyer since he broke free from a penitentiary transportation officer at Kenton, O.

He was being taken by auto from Ohio Penitentiary to Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane when he made his successful bid for escape.

Preyer had been branded dangerous. He had been sent up to the penitentiary for five years last June for burglary in Crawford County.

His capture came surprisingly easy. The Gallon (O) fugitive tried to snatch a purse from a 56-year-old woman as she was walking near District 2 station. She screamed and he pushed her to the ground, bruising her arms and left leg.

Patrolmen inside the station heard the ruckus and dashed out to capture Preyer. He put up no struggle and readily admitted his identity.

Police Sergeant Charles Sizemore said Preyer told him he avoided capture after escaping from Lieutenant Tom Templeton at Kenton.

He continued on to Lima in a stolen car. There he caught a freight train and traveled in a boxcar until it got cold. He said he went up to the locomotive cab and the engineer permitted him to ride along until the train reached the Cincinnati stockyards. Preyer got out there and wandered around town.

White Sidewall Tires May Feel War's Pinch

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7 (AP)—White sidewall tires probably will be victims of the new defense program, says a rubber company executive.

E. J. Thomas, president of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., said yesterday the industry is ready to pull in its belt. Fewer types of tires will be produced, he said, and synthetic rubber production will be increased.

Volunteers Expected To Increase

Those Trained Under Federal Assistance Will Enroll First

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—President Truman's order to begin drafting doctors and dentists was expected today to touch off an increasing march of these professional men to enlistment offices.

If they volunteer before being called, they will receive $100 a month more pay than if they wait for the draft.

Nearly all doctors, dentists and veterinarians under 50 who are not members of the reserve forces will be subject to registration starting Oct. 16. How many actually will be inducted depends upon the needs of the armed forces. Military spokesmen said it will be in the thousands.

In setting the October registration date, the proclamation signed yesterday by the President said medical men are urgently needed.

First to be registered will be those who got government financing or selective service deferment for their studies during World War II, but did not see 21 months of national service.

The turn of other medical men comes later. The date has not been set, but it must be before next Jan. 18. That registration will take in (a) men who have had long active duty, though they are now at the bottom of the list for call to service, and (b) those not trained by the government or deferred for study.

Men in the reserves are exempt from registration. So are men over 50. Those drafted will be subject to 21 months' service.

The draft law, upon which the proclamation was based, sets up those priorities for actual call to induction:

►First, students who were in wartime Army and Navy medical, dental and veterinary training program, and students deferred because of medical and allied studies, who have not served at least 90 days in the armed forces.

►Second, students in the first category who served between 90 days and 21 months on active duty, the Air Force, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard or the Public Health Service.

►Third, doctors, dentists and veterinarians who had no active service with any of the listed services after Sept. 16, 1940.

►Fourth, those not included in the other classifications, who have had active service in the armed forces since Sept. 16, 1940. Announcement of the decision to draft medical men coincided with these other developments in the manpower field:

1.—Selective Service's scientific advisory committee recommended a program of special deferment for "superior students in high schools, colleges and universities. Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, said he will support the plan in principle.

2.—W. Stuart Symington, mobilization co-ordinator, met with Secretary of Defense Marshall and Secretary of Labor Tamm in an effort to work out an over-all agreement on how men with special qualifications shall be assigned among the armed forces and other essential claimants.

3.—Marshall told the United States Conference of Mayors that the country's great danger today is the lack of a reserve of trained manpower. Although the defense secretary did not specifically say that he was urging passage of pending legislation for universal military training, he left little doubt that this was what he had in mind.

Although yesterday's proclamation called only for registration of physicians, dentists and veterinarians, the law enacted by Congress gives the President power to order a draft of various "allied specialists" such as optometrists and pharmacists.

Selective Service officials said there was no immediate plan to call men in these fields.

Drama Ticket Sale Extended

Lions Will Present 3 Plays During Season

The Lions Club will extend sale of membership tickets through next Thursday for the Civic Drama Festival program of three New York stage plays it will present in East Liverpool in the 1950-51 season.

The decision to extend the deadline was reached at the club's weekly luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel Friday noon, when reports from members showed several hundred tickets still unsold.

The tickets entitle holders to see three plays at the Ceramic Theater staged by the Civic Drama League of New York. They are: "Born Yesterday," Nov. 14; "Harvey," Feb. 9, and "I Like It Here," May 4.

The price for all three shows is $6.15 for tickets downstairs and $4.61 for balcony seats. The price includes tax.

Meanwhile, the club announced that purchasers may exchange their membership tickets for reserved seats at the three performances either by mail or by visiting the theater box office, Oct. 13 and 14. Previously, no arrangements had been made for exchanging the tickets by mail.

If a membership ticket is exchanged to the theater for exchange, it should be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope, the club said. The mail reservations will be handled in the order in which they are received, the club said.

Most of yesterday's meeting was occupied with checking ticket sale reports. John Ridder showed slides taken during a Canadian vacation. Richard A. Walker, president, was in charge.

8 In Cub Pack Given Achievement Awards

Eight members of Cub Pack 24 were presented with achievement awards, and seven new members were enrolled at the monthly pack meeting Thursday night at the Tri-State Casting Club, which sponsors the organization.

John E. Hall, Cub scoutmaster, presented the awards to John Rock, John Merwin, David Buzzard, John O'Brien, Richard Beatty, John Starkey, and Charles Stewart. The awards included wolf and bear badges and achievement awards.

New members are Jack Johnson, David Marshall, James Hall, Bruce Jones, Gary Schreckengost, Frank Miller and Jack Putnam.

The pack's third den was organized with Mrs. Don Schreckengost as den mother.

David Buzzard led the group singing and each den presented a skit. About 25 Cub Scouts and their parents attended.

Deaths, Funerals

Former Agent Dies Suddenly

F. C. Van Winkle, 66, Taken At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE, Oct. 7 (Special)—Frank Cleveland Van Winkle, a Railway Express agent at Rochester for many years until his retirement recently, dropped dead here at 3:15 p. m. Friday. He was 66.

Mr. Van Winkle was working around the home he had under construction on Alice St. and collapsed while talking to a carpenter. A physician and the first aid crew of the Volunteer Fire Department were summoned but he had expired.

A son of Amos and Lucy Van Winkle, he was born Oct. 30, 1884, in Fallsburg, O.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Van Winkle, he is survived by a step-son, Dale Dixon of New York City.

The body will be moved today from the Oliver Funeral Home to the Coleman Funeral Home in Rochester for services at 2:30 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Sylvania Hills at Rochester.

Friends may call Sunday at the funeral home.

Miss Louise Froehlich

Miss Louise Froehlich, 20, died today at 6:30 a. m. in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Froehlich, 1045 St. George St., following a six-month illness.

Miss Froehlich was born in Detroit and lived in East Liverpool for three years. She was a member of St. Ann's Catholic Church. She leaves her parents, a sister, Linda Froehlich at home; two brothers, Lawrence Froehlich Jr., of Detroit, and Michael Froehlich at home, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Froehlich of Columbus.

The body was taken to the Dawson Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

'Meanest Thief' Takes Radio Given Choir Director

East Liverpool's "meanest thief" made 300 persons angry when he stole a portable radio from the choir room at Memorial Auditorium.

The $69 radio was a gift to Lawrence Beck, school music supervisor, from 300 students in his choir. It was given him at the close of the annual Christmas concert two years ago.

Mr. Beck reported the theft to police Friday afternoon, explaining it occurred sometime Thursday night or early Friday.

2 St. Clair Brothers To Leave For Service

Two St. Clair township brothers will leave Monday to serve in the armed forces.

They are Corporal Franklin L. Jackson, 21, of the Air Force Reserve, and Paul "Pup" Jackson, 17, a Navy enlistee. They are sons of Constable and Mrs. John R. Jackson.

Corporal Jackson, now attending the Allied Trade School in Chicago, was in the Air Force for three years, including two and a half in Germany. An airplane mechanic, he will be stationed in Florida.

Paul is a 1950 graduate of East Liverpool High School and played right guard on the football team.

Chief Cautions Motorists As Darkness Raises Hazards

EARLIER nightfall means more danger of traffic accidents, the chief Police Chief L. J. Wise warned motorists today.

October is the first fall month with more darkness than daylight because many communities returned to standard time in September, the chief pointed out.

He issued these reminders for fall and winter driving:

★Post speed limits are all right for daylight hours, but night time speeds should be around 10 miles an hour slower to assure that the car can be stopped in the space lighted by the headlights.

★Parking lights should not be used for driving because they do not cast enough light ahead to show anything that might be in the street.

★Be especially careful when driving streets that lack good street lighting.

★Don't park your car without lights in a dark area where it would be a traffic hazard, and ★Pass pedestrians at moderate speeds.

Pedestrians should remember to cross streets only at intersections and to carry a light colored object

Hint Dropped O'Dwyer Gets Call In Inquiry

New York Continues Graft Probe; Homes Of Policemen Raided

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP) — New York City's graft probe reached out yesterday to tag three high police officials and a prominent public figure as grand jury witnesses.

The "figure" was not identified, but was widely believed to be former Mayor William O'Dwyer, who resigned five weeks ago to become American ambassador to Mexico. He now is vacationing in California.

The new moves followed fast on a series of early-morning raids ordered by Brooklyn District Attorney Miles F. McDonald on the homes of eight policemen.

The raids turned up four television sets that Mr. McDonald said were gifts from Bookmaker Harry Gross, head of a reported 20-million-dollar gambling empire.

Gross, now in jail as a material witness, has admitted paying $1,000,000 a year for police protection.

Two other policemen, one a sergeant and one a patrolman also were summoned after the raids.

The other three—two of them just recently retired—were in the very highest ranks of the Police Department.

At Mr. McDonald's request, Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy ordered detectives to locate—but not arrest—the two retired officials. The search was successful last night.

The two are Edward C. Moran, 60, former assistant chief inspector in charge of the Brooklyn district, who retired the day Gross was arrested, Sept. 15, and John F. Flynn, former inspector in charge of the confidential (police graft) squad, who retired the day Mr. Murphy became commissioner, Sept. 26.

Mr. Murphy last night said he had "reasonably established" their whereabouts, but left it to Mr. McDonald to say if they could be called before the Brooklyn grand jury, Flynn, but not Moran, was implicated in the television raid, Mr. McDonald said.

The third high officer was Inspector Frederick A. Hofsaes, former commander of the Brooklyn 18th district.

Mr. Hofsaes is still in the department, but promptly was suspended by Mr. Murphy last night after he was cited in a report in a Sunday edition of the Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz, who is supervising the Brooklyn jury's probe.

Julius Helfand, Mr. McDonald's assistant in charge of the inquiry, said Hofsaes had received a television set "about Christmas time of 1948", and later disposed of it by leaving it for the garbage man.

Hofsaes drew down the wrath—and a contempt citation—from the judge when he said he had no idea where the set came from—that his little girl was the only person home the day it arrived.

It must have been Santa Claus, Judge Leibowitz commented.

New Dictionary Lists American-Coined Words

CHICAGO (UP) — The last word in the newly-completed "Dictionary of Americanisms" is zwieback. It means twice-baked bread.

The two-volume, 2,000-page dictionary includes 50,000 such words and phrases that were coined in America.

The dictionary is scheduled for publication by the University of Chicago Press early in 1951. Its editor, Milford Mathews, took five years to compile it.

Mr. Mathews said zwieback is a word of German origin and is an example of a foreign word given new meaning in the United States.

He said its first known use in this country was in 1894, when the New York Weekly Tribune printed these words: "We will keep for a long time if put in a dry place."

Two Mothers Ponder

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Mrs. Raymond Williams, 27, gave birth to a son at DePaul Hospital and named him Ronald Edward.

Two days later, Mrs. Arthur Williams was moved into the other room in the first Mrs. Williams' room.

"What's your name?" asked the first Mrs. Williams, "Williams," said the second Mrs. Williams.

"That's odd," said the surprised first Mrs. Williams. "What's your baby's name?"

"Ronald Edward," said the second Mrs. Williams.

'Two Mountains' Recalls Film Days

THE REDSKIN who "captured" Claudette Colbert in "The Last of the Mohicans" stopped off in East Liverpool Friday and he recalled he had an armful when he grabbed the movie star in that western thriller of mid-1930.

"Two Mountains" said she was a fine actress. He wasn't so bad himself, as no re-takes were required when he leaped from his horse to make the capture.

An extra for many years in the movies, he appeared in pictures produced by Hoot Gibson, Tim McCoy and Harry Carey—and he became American ambassador to Mexico. He now is vacationing in California.

The new moves followed fast on a series of early-morning raids ordered by Brooklyn District Attorney Miles F. McDonald on the homes of eight policemen.

The raids turned up four television sets that Mr. McDonald said were gifts from Bookmaker Harry Gross, head of a reported 20-million-dollar gambling empire.

FORMER LANDLORD. His people once roamed over the land where East Liverpool stands but "Two Mountains" said he doesn't expect to exact tribute of the squatters now residing here. The Seneca Indian stopped off yesterday enroute to the reservation in New York state.

MR. MOSES dismissed with a roamed the country that became the Northwest Territory. He left the city on foot—but he didn't hitch-hike. "People see me along the road and they stop and pick me up—I hawks and Onondaga—who once don't have to thumb ride".

His work with Cole Brothers shrug of the shoulders the fact the Senecas were at—his profile matches the hood ornament of the car of that make.

WITH U. N. FORCES IN SOUTH KOREA, Oct. 7 (AP) — A spirited wind raised little swirls of dust among the white crosses. Stars of David and stark white stakes massed on the red-brown, dusty hillside.

The half-staff United Nations flag fluttered in the breeze. Then the voice of the chaplain, Colonel Frank Tobey, floated across the Matinee, soldiers and South Koreans at the first memorial service at the only U.N. cemetery in this area.

"The Americans and South Koreans whose bodies lie beneath these crosses, these Stars of David, the white markers, died for the protection of all freedom-loving people of the world."

The phrases drifted up the hillside, past the graves of Frank Paganone and Gerald Feinstein and Perry Bevans and over the withering leaves in the glazed blue clay pot at the head of Henry J. Hampton's grave.

To the west lay the sea, hardly visible. At the foot of the graveyard lay the road to Seoul, bustling with men and weapons, along which these dead had marched and fought a few days ago. To the east lay the tanks and guns with which the Communists had tried to halt the United Nations advance.

Then Major General E. M. Almond, commander of the Tenth Corps, which took Seoul from the Reds, stepped to the microphone. His boots raised little spurts of dust in the afternoon sunshine.

These men who lie here in this hallowed spot gave their lives, like Nathan Hale, for liberty and the dignity of man. They were inspired to risk death itself to preserve the right of an individual to go where he likes, do what he likes, think what he likes.

"I believe they died in the full knowledge that their individual contributions would be a distinct factor in the preservation of liberty."

I believe they had a conviction that communism must be driven from the conscience of human relations, and that their efforts and others to follow if necessary will be the means of attaining this noble aim.

He stepped back a pace, looked at the graves, then back at "Boys here for the ceremony."

Personally, I salute them. Ask you to go likewise as individuals, not as an organization, Hoots snapped to foreheads in salute. An Army band began playing softly.

Then General Almond took the first of four wreaths of fresh flowers and laid it on a grave. The marker bore no name. The dead was unknown.

Major General O. P. Smith then took a wreath and laid it on the grave of R. C. Mathews, Army Major General David Barr placed one on the grave of Walter L. Moore.

South Korean Colonel Pak In Yun laid a wreath on the grave, marked only by a white stake, of Soldier Poe Sun Ha.

The assembly stood at attention then and a Marine-Army band guard fired three volleys across the sparse brown hills of South Korea.

The wind whispered among the graves, over the cross to which was attached the note: "To the best friend a man could have, from all the men of the (Marine)

Our Front Man

THIS is Newspaperboy Day. It is an annual occasion for pointing with pride to one of the most important cogs in the free-enterprise system.

The newspaperboy—your newspaperboy—is our front man. He is the individual who represents the paper in day-to-day transactions. That is why there is an annual occasion for telling how important he is.

Everything that all the rest of us do to get out the paper would be wasted if the product were not put into the hands of its buyers. That is a complicated procedure. Newspapers have developed what they believe is a sound plan for making it work.

Your newspaperboy is in business for himself. The newspaper's subscribers are his customers. He distributes a product to them on the same basis as any other distributor in the American plan of free enterprise.

Though he is our front man in this role, he is not employed by the newspaper. He represents us and naturally we are interested in helping him represent us properly, but he works for his customers. That makes it a good arrangement.

Newspapers want it to continue to be a good arrangement. They want their newspaperboys' customers to understand how it works and to keep it working. The best way to do this is to make certain that everybody knows how it works.

The next time you see your newspaperboy, pass the time of day with him. Like thousands who have been newspaperboys in the past, and thousands who will want to go into business for themselves in the future, he is a first-rate example of American self-reliance.

Ohio Issue Is Majority Rule

THE CLAIM by Senator Taft's opponent that he is going to win by 250,000 votes on Election Day calls attention to the only possible way he could obtain any kind of a majority in this race.

This year's senatorial race in Ohio will be settled on a basis of popular participation in the election. A heavy vote would re-elect Senator Taft.

This is not a man-to-man contest between Senator Taft, running for re-election, and State Auditor Ferguson, running to unseat him. It is, rather, a contest between Ohioans who think Ohio should retain Senator Taft and Ohioans who think the prospects for their special interests would be brighter with Senator Taft out of the way.

Mr. Ferguson, with all due respect to his possession of his party's nomination for U. S. senator, is running as a stalking-horse for the minorities which want to get rid of Senator Taft. These minorities aim to run the Democratic party if they get away with it, they are already in the saddle.

If these people were to win the election by 250,000 votes, it would be only because the people who have been challenged to stand up and be counted in Senator Taft's favor failed to turn out on Election Day. It would not be because Ohioans had decided that his opponent was better qualified to serve Ohio in the U. S. Senate.

If Senator Taft's voters do their duty, there can be a 250,000 majority in the Senate race, with thousands to spare. Ohio can settle for a long time to come the issue which has been raised in this state by the labor unions:

Are they going to be permitted to wield power far beyond their numerical importance in the republic because of the default of voters without enough gumption to preserve majority rule in the United States?

No Standard For Atrocities

EVIDENCE of wholesale slaughter of unarmed and helpless persons by North Korean forces during their retreat adds to the horror of war.

But it never was clearer that there is no absolute standard for judging what constitutes an atrocity.

The North Koreans probably regard aerial bombardment of cities behind the fighting line as the greatest of all atrocities.

As Asians, they cannot be expected to rise above the ordinary levels of Asiatic attitudes, which include what to westerners is a callous disregard for human rights.

During the war with Japan, Americans were shocked by wanton and needless cruelty on the part of the Japanese. Yet, before the war was over, this country's forces had done things to the Japanese which left them no choice but to believe that Americans were heartless and inhumane in warfare.

Atrocities are inevitable in warfare. Their degree is greater or lesser according to the kind of people who commit them. The wholesale slaughter of helpless people by North Koreans is horrible in itself. But no one could expect anything else when hordes of half-civilized and angry men are turned loose for warfare.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

What Are We To Do About Our Wars?

IN THE 10 FISCAL years, 1940 to 1950, the United States shall have spent directly for war—that is, for the national defense—$368,019,000,000. To this should be added an estimated expenditure in 1951 of $30,245,000,000, which will bring the total up to $398,264,000,000.

To this vast sum must be added other items such as ECA, European military assistance, Lend-Lease, cost of the United Nations and similar expenses which are really items chargeable to the national defense. It probably will run as high as $500,000,000,000 up to the end of the fiscal year 1950-51.

All that money comes out of the earnings of the American people. For the fiscal year in 1950, the gross national product of the American people amounted to $259,800,000,000. In a word, over 10 years, we have spent roughly two years of the gross product of all the people of the United States on war, defense, and subsidies for other countries.

(The term gross national product means the total market value of goods and services, before deduction for depreciation or other allowances.)

Obviously, this huge expenditure cannot go on indefinitely unless a cut is made in other expenditures, such as the social reforms to which Oscar Ewing devotes himself. In the fiscal year, 1950-1951, more than 10 per cent of the national product will go to war, not counting the rearming of Europe and similar aids to prospective allies.

The burden is enormous and the Korean war has proved beyond doubt that we can count on little aid from other nations. Their token aids may be of moral value, but in an appraisal of actual costs, they serve little.

IT IS, of course, gratifying to know that the Turks are sending some ground forces after General MacArthur recaptured Seoul, and it is good to see that a British regiment appears on the war maps, but the United States really did that Korean job for the United Nations practically alone, and that is what we must expect from Europe.

Therefore, what the American people need to decide very soon is how much of the economy, the manpower and the natural resources of this country must be devoted to war, and how willing our people are to lower their standards of living and to reduce government-provided social benefits in order that the war costs can be met without bankrupting the land.

It is doubtful whether the economy can long carry all our present commitments.

Politicians do not state these problems in such precise terms. They prefer to meet catastrophes when they come, hopeful always that they will not appear until someone else is responsible for them. Thus, we are now facing the terms of life arranged for us during the enthusiastic years between 1942 and 1945 when the war spirit carried men along. The assumption, at the moment, was that the best was being done to save the world from dictators and for Democracy. Out of all that we got Stalin.

Now, in the year 1950, our problem remains, what are we to do about our wars? We have an enemy who does not want peace, because the kind of war he has arranged costs him little and costs us much. Russia does not even use its own manpower in these wars, depending upon the huge human resources of its Asiatic satellites.

THE OBJECT of these wars is not to win victories but to increase the cost of war to the United States. In a word, when Vysinsky smiles over the defeat of North Korea, he is really smiling at the cost of the victory to the United States. By constantly forcing our budget upward, the Russians are actually succeeding in embarrassing the American government and the American economy.

Unless we are extraordinarily vigilant and farsighted, an ugly inflation will be upon us—and it can be more costly than a war with atom bombs included.

This then is a problem requiring great statesmanship and a facing of facts.

One reason why President Truman dislikes such men as Senator Byrd of Virginia and Senator Taft of Ohio is that they talk about such matters candidly and statistically, whereas the President prefers to screen the ugly from the public, hoping that the worst will not happen—at any rate, while he is around.

The 1950 Farm Vote

By Raymond Moley

SINCE IT is clear that the election of 1948 was decided by the farm vote, candidates everywhere are scanning the agricultural situation.

They are finding marked differences from the conditions two years ago. And those differences do not favor Democratic candidates who have followed the Truman-Brannan line.

In President Truman's aggressive campaign in 1948 he used, with a great deal of success, the argument that the Republican 80th Congress had imposed upon the farmer the flexible supports which might destroy his time-honored dependence upon 90 per cent of parity. The spectre of 60 per cent of parity was raised.

Of course, this was a specious argument. The flexible plan was a bi-partisan agreement. But in 1948 the Truman argument worked.

It worked so well that Truman and Secretary Brannan decided that the farm vote could be held and increased by new and more ample promises. But such promises to the farmers must not be offensive to city workers who eat the products of the farm. And so the Brannan plan was produced and vigorously promoted.

That plan promised not merely 90 per cent parity, but 100 per cent. A careful analysis revealed that it was still a promise of 90 per cent on the former basis of calculations.

Since the Department of Agriculture feared that this high range of prices when guaranteed for perishables would bring about huge surpluses, there was added that special Brannan refinement, subsidies for every grocery basket.

Thus, it was hoped that both farmer and consumer would be happy. Only the taxpayer would be unhappy, but his reaction would be delayed, and his case could be dealt with later.

But the two big farm organizations saw the frightening danger of this proposal to put the farmer on an excessive and permanent dole. They fought the plan. And members of Congress of both parties refused to agree to it.

The Farm Bureau Federation has exposed the essentially fraudulent nature of the whole Brannan plan. And this year in Congress that plan lost most of its support.

This is the situation faced by administration candidates as they approach next month's election. It has little similarity to that of 1948. It is not likely to hold the Republican farm vote that switched in 1948.

Start With The Good

Recommendations For Making A Happy Family Life

WHAT FACTORS make for a happy family life?

The Ohio Commission on Children and Youth doesn't have the answer. But it says that attempts to find out should start in homes of good families, with happy, healthy children.

Too much time has been spent in studying bad families and homes where delinquent children are found, says the commission. That's the negative approach, the group contends.

This is one of the first recommendations in a list of nearly 200 which the commission has approved and will send to Washington for consideration at the mid-century White House conference on children and youth in December.

The recommendations are the results of studies made by nearly 10,000 persons in all parts of Ohio during the past 12 months. The commission, appointed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, assisted in organizing county committees on children and youth in 84 of Ohio's 88 counties.

J. Gordon Crowe, executive secretary of the commission, said the first group of recommendations concern problems of children and youth at home. Other recommendations will be announced later as they are assembled.

They place special emphasis on the need for better housing. One recommendation calls for government subsidies for public housing for low-income families and more extensive urban redevelopment.

Another urges "provision of an adequate supply of minimum-priced homes, with sufficient space to enable families to rear children, at prices families can afford to pay."

Special attention is suggested on the problems of physically and mentally handicapped children.

Pointing out that the physician is "one of the chief sources of help to parents in guiding their children," the commission recommends that the educational programs of medical colleges include "training in child psychology and development and family relations."

Dangerous Voices

The State Department's Polite 'Voice'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON
THE "Voice of America" is as strong or as weak as the policies of the secretary of state, Dean Acheson. At the moment the American people believe that the "Voice of America" tries to persuade the people of the Soviet Union to abandon Communism. But evidently that sort of broadcasting is taboo.

The "Ukrainian Bulletin," official publication of the Ukrainians in this country, just issued, prints an interesting exchange of letters recently with Roy D. Kohler, head of the State Department's broadcasting division.

It appears that the Ukrainians here have been dissatisfied because the "Voice of America" isn't more pointed in its broadcasts to the people of the Ukraine, who total 45 million and who are regarded by many observers as constituting the Achilles heel of the Soviet Union.

The letter of criticism came from Professor L. E. Dobriansky of Georgetown University, who is president of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America. The answer by Mr. Kohler of the State Department follows:

"I APPRECIATE your calling my attention to the misinterpretations which had been attached to the phrases in my letter of April 16 to Vladimir Sushko to the effect that, 'our Ukrainian broadcasts have been criticized, sometimes severely, because they do not project a liberated Ukraine. We still are unable to do that for that would be contrary to United States foreign policy.'"

"As you know from conversations we have had, it is the function of the Voice of America to express and to implement American foreign policy. It was certainly, therefore, not my intention in the letter to Mr. Sushko to make any statement which would in any sense constitute a pronouncement on American foreign policy."

Similarly it is not my intent in this letter to do so, since pronouncements on this subject must rather come from the President or the secretary of state, or authorized responsible political officers of the Department of State in Washington. This should have been clear to the readers of my letter to Mr. Sushko and I find it difficult to appreciate how the interpretations you mention could have arisen.

However, I am glad to re-emphasize and expand my remarks as follows. I meant simply to make clear that that policy does not authorize the Voice of America at the present time to engage in any programming directly designed to "change the governmental or social structure of the Soviet Union," to quote the secretary of state in his address to the University of California on March 16 last.

"AS THE secretary then pointed out, this does not in any way lessen our sympathy with the peoples who are obliged to live under the Soviet system. Neither, I would add, does it prevent the Voice of America from giving expression to that sympathy; nor does it affect our serious intention to bring to those peoples the true story of what is going on in the world and how the American government and people view it."

I certainly would hope that such information, interpreted in the light of their own historical traditions, would comfort and encourage the Ukrainian people in their endeavors to find the means of expressing their free will and of achieving the aspirations they may have to become again the masters of their own destiny.

"I trust that the foregoing will clarify for you the intention of my letter and the objectives of the Ukrainian-language program of the Voice of America."

The foregoing illustrates the limitations placed on the "Voice of America." Apparently the broadcasts must not do anything to induce the people of the Soviet Union to change their governmental or social structure.

Yet 9 out of 10 members of Congress have believed all along that this is what they were appropriating money for. Also, most people outside of Congress have assumed that the main objective of the broadcasts was to create inside the Soviet Union a feeling of antipathy toward international Communism, which, of course, nowadays is indistinguishable from internal Communism.

JUST WHY must the Department of State be so polite in its broadcasts? Why can't it tell the peoples who make up the Soviet Union that their governmental structure is a menace to world peace today and that, unless it is changed, the world will drift some day into large-scale war? Why can't the Department of State's broadcasts point out that the leaders of the Soviet Union have already demonstrated in North Korea that they believe in aggression by military force?

If the Department of State has some diplomatic inhibitions about blunt speech and a direct appeal to the Soviet peoples, then some other agency should undertake such broadcasts.

There is no reason why an agency like the OWI, responsible to the President alone, shouldn't be set up to organize broadcasts of all kinds. These could be outspoken and would not mislead words or be influenced by the fear of offending the sensibilities of the Kremlin.

The parents of the American boys shot down in Korea with their hands tied behind them wouldn't be offended.

How Deep Is Down?

By Max Hall

HOW FAR UNDER ground can mankind dig?

There you have a question to suit these troublous times. Man already has attained considerable skill at burrowing into the Earth, and he is burrowing deeper all the time.

In Africa and India, he is down around 9,000 or 10,000 feet in his age-old search for gold.

In Wyoming he has bored a hole 20,521 feet deep in his century-old search for the black gold that is oil.

This puncture of nearly four miles into the Earth's crust, made in Sublette county by the Superior Oil Co., is probably the closest to the Earth's center—4,000 miles from the surface—that mankind ever pushed a finger. It is certainly the closest unless Russia has drilled a deeper well, and neither the U. S. Bureau of Mines nor the American Petroleum Institute thinks this is likely.

I couldn't find out here with any certainty what is the deepest mine in the world.

It may be the Crown gold mine at Johannesburg, South Africa. It may be a mine in the Kolar gold fields, Mysore, India.

The National Geographic Society says the Crown mine is close to 9,000 feet and is presumed to be the deepest anywhere. The U. S. Bureau of Mines believes that the deepest of the Johannesburg shafts have been dug deeper recently, and are more than 9,000 and possibly near 10,000.

One of the most interesting trips ever made toward the Earth's center was not in a mine or a cave but in the Pacific Ocean. The world record for deep sea diving, 4,500 feet, was made by Odys Barton in 1949. He made the trip inside a steel ball.

Case Of The Missing Icebreakers

Mr. Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, U.S.A. Dear Sir:

The U.S.S.R. acknowledges another inquiry from you concerning what became of two icebreakers you say were loaned to it during the war and which Moscow last reported caught in an icefloe drifting west. This is a complete misstatement of the facts in accord with the practice of the ruling classes.

As is well known, these icebreakers were guilty of an aggression against ice within Soviet waters. The conduct of American icebreakers, as is understood everywhere by all peoples, is aggressive. The United States policy of ice breaking without regard for the rights of the ice is well known.

On the other hand the attitude of the U.S.S.R. on ice is a matter of record. It believes in ice. It has done more to maintain and support ice than any other government.

THE UNITED States, true to its imperialistic aims, has been against the free movement of ice. It has sought to control it, to smash it, to destroy it.

The U.S.S.R. calls attention to the operations of Admiral Byrd and other agents of Wall Street in their repeated efforts to conquer ice. American explorers seek to enslave ice, as is well known.

With regard to the icebreakers lent to the U.S.S.R., the United States was at that time leading things right and left. The American Government asked Russia if she could not use a few icebreakers.

The U.S.S.R. thought it said "mice," not "ice." Having mice, which penetrated Russian borders through Wall Street conspirators led by Foster Dulles, it accepted anything to get rid of them.

When the icebreakers arrived, the U.S.S.R. saw at once the plot to enmesh it in the unfriendly war of the capitalist electric icebox classes on natural ice. The U.S.S.R. begs to remind the U. S. A. that no country has been so conspicuous in its use of ice in international relations.

IT THEREFORE turned these warmongering ships loose and has no idea what became of them. When last seen, as previously reported, they were drifting westward.

Russia is carrying out its policy regarding drifts. It is one of noninterference.

Nevertheless, mindful of the general ice situation, and desirous of contributing to world accord, the U.S.S.R. proposes that a Commission to Investigate the Case of the Missing Icebreakers be named on the following conditions:

- ▶The commission shall be made up of Russians.
- ▶The use of mirrors in multiplying membership on this commission shall be permitted.
- ▶The United States shall withdraw all breakers from all icefields.

Signed
Joe.

Yesterdays

From The Review File

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—Burglars forced an entrance into the former J. N. Taylor property on West Sixth St., owned by the city, and stole copper measuring cans of the city sealer of weights, whose offices had been moved into the building.

William A. Fullman, Ernest Bishop, Ralph Cook, Edward Wolfe, Stanley McKenzie and Elmer and Al Pritchard signed up for physical examinations to enlist in the United States Marine Corps.

Thomas F. Rose, employed in the East Liverpool warehouse of Armour & Co. was transferred to Canton, where he was to become credit manager.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Rev. E. P. Wise of North Canton, former pastor, spoke at homecoming services in the First Church of Christ. The City Country Club opened a $10,000, 18-hole indoor golf course at 117 West Fifth St. with Chris Pusey, former manager of the Tom Thumb golf course at Rock Springs Park, in charge.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and City Council joined a move for dropping the prefix "East" from East Liverpool, changing the name of the municipality to "Liverpool."

TEN YEARS AGO—H. J. Freshwater and Charles Freshwater of near Georgetown were treated in City Hospital for injuries suffered when their automobile struck a horse which had wandered onto the road near their home. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dugman and son Bernard, Charles Davis and Ronald Delaney returned from attending the third Detroit-Cincinnati World Series game at Detroit.

Robert Bloor, NYA supervisor, called 25 boys for work on improvements which were planned for the Y-Vodrey recreation lot on Bradshaw Ave.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

REPRESENTATIVE Chatham didn't get much attention with his story that he has seen Russian tanks three feet high. This week we're kind of busy with Yankee hits three bases long.

But if the Russians have tanks three feet high, we would like to see the comrades two feet high who sit in them.

It may be that the tanks are robots, controlled from Moscow. Everything else Russian is.

What Representative Chatham may have seen is Russian eight-foot tanks going underground. That would be typically Communist.

He'll have to give us another buzz on it after we get the World Series out of the way, and are ready for another inning of the world situation.

Confident Living

Don't Be Bugged Down By A Sense Of Guilt

OLD-FASHIONED PREACHERS talked about sin, but somehow it doesn't seem fashionable any more to write or talk about sin. In our generation some even have tried to explain it away and many have been foolish enough to believe them.

Possibly you've been silly enough to believe some writer or lecturer who told you that there is no such thing as sin or that sin is not sin nowadays. If you have—and then went ahead and acted on that advice—the chances are that you know better now.

For within each of us there is a Dr. Peale mechanism that recognizes wrong and never forgets it. And when you commit wrong that mechanism instills in you feelings of guilt which can slowly but surely poison your mind and body until you must ask and find forgiveness. If you don't, you may crack up and fail.

Let me tell you about one case of this kind. About a year ago the head of a large company called me to ask for help. They were very much bewildered about their sales manager. They had sent him down to Atlantic City for a rest and later to Florida for a month. Neither of these vacations had done him any good.

Apparently this man had lost his creative power. Previously his sales ideas had been wonderful. There was a good market for his company's goods and he was doing fine. Then the market became competitive and he began to run into difficulties. He couldn't sleep, he quivered with ANDREW KERR was born Oct. 7, 1878 at Cheyenne, Wyo., son of a stockman. As "the canny Scot of Chenango", Mr. Kerr became famous as the head football coach of Colgate for 18 years. Sports writers credit him with pioneering "houspokus" on the gridiron in 152 games.

New Cumberland

Miss Dolores Alger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Alger of Aliquippa, and Paul R. Herron, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Herron of New Cumberland, were married Sept. 22.

The ceremony was performed in the Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Church on Route 18 near Aliquippa by Rev. J. C. Fulton, pastor. White gladiolus, ferns, palms and lighted candles formed the altar setting.

Mrs. David Searight, organist, and L. I. Bowman, soloist, gave a half-hour recital of wedding music preceding the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white, chivalry lace and satin. Her fingertip veil was trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and lilies of the valley.

Miss Jean Czaplak of Weirton was matron of honor. She chose pink marquisette with matching bonnet and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds.

John Andrews of Georgetown was best man. Ronald Molter, cousin of the bride, and Frank Herron, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception for 130 followed in the church social rooms. The table was decorated with a three-tiered wedding cake, lighted candles and white chrysanthemums.

Following a wedding trip to New York and Maine, the newlyweds are living with the bride's parents until their new home is completed. The bridegroom works for Miller & Sons Co. in Aliquippa.

Potters Lose Offensive Battle To Toledo Devilbiss, 20-13

Oliver, Kwiatkowski Gallop To Pair Of TD's

By BOB SHAFER, Review Sports Editor

The Potters exploded their best offensive of the season Friday night, but their defense wasn't as strong and a ponderous Toledo Devilbiss eleven rode to a 20-13 triumph before more than 5,000 rooters at Patterson Field.

It was unfortunate that the Liverpool coach subtracted a part of the lustre from the gallant showing of his proteges. Late in the game, he cuffed Substitute Tackle Bob Bible lightly when he pulled the replacement from the game.

Coach Wade Watts, who received a big round of Bronx cheers from the Liverpool gallery as a result of the incident, explained afterward that the substitute failed to carry out his instructions. Had the Potter defense been able to stop one Rol Kwiatkowski, rolling back 185-pound left halfback who stepped for two touchdowns in the second period to keep his Tigers ahead, and then set up the "clunker" in the fourth session when he boomed 76 yards on a punt return, the much-lighter Blue and White array might have made the score even closer.

They trailed, 14-13, when Kwiatkowski pulled in Dan Skaleski's punt on the Toledo 16 in the fourth quarter, and galloped 76 yards to the Potter eight to set up the third Devilbiss tally.

But the Potters took the wraps off an individual star of their own, Eddie Oliver, 170 pounds of dynamite who had been used previously at both left half and fullback.

Potter-Lehman Tickets

Tickets for the East Liverpool-Canton-Lehman Eastern Ohio Athletic Conference game next Friday night at Canton will be placed on sale Monday. Faculty Manager Nate Lorah announced today.

back, was assigned the left half slot and bolted across for both the Liverpool touchdowns.

He capped a Liverpool drive of 75 yards from the opening kickoff when he skirted right end from the 11, and raced around the same side of the line in the second quarter from the five to climax a 62-yard Potter parade of power.

The rugged sophomore, in one of his many breakaways during the battle, bolted 46 yards — his longest gain — to the Toledo 11 after Devilbiss had amassed its 20-13 edge. He and fullback Len O'Hanlon banged to the two in three plays, but Oliver was stopped short of the first down in his last desperate lunge.

Through the medium of good blocking that obviously has been a weak point in the Potters' attack till last night, the Blue and White also shook Bobby Sullivan loose for several sizeable sprints, one of which went for 30 yards which ate a big chunk of the 62 yards consumed in the second period when the second home TD was scored.

Outweighed 15 pounds to the man and sometimes more than 20 when the Devilbiss offensive unit was on the field, the Potters needed off 14 first downs to equal Toledo's output. They chewed up a net gain of 229 yards by rushing, nearly twice the amount of any previous game this season. That compared favorably with Toledo's 267 net.

And with Oliver on the throwing end most of the time, the Blue and White staged their best overhead attack of the season. They completed five of eight attempts for 69 yards. Devilbiss failed to click once on six tries.

The first half was strictly an offensive game. Both teams scored the first time they had their hands on the ball.

Oliver brought Eckel's opening kickoff back 15 yards to the 25, from where the Potters set sail for their first TD, a march of 35 yards. Oliver, O'Hanlon and Sullivan alternated in carrying with Oliver finally touring right end from the 11 for the score. Don Glenn's placekick was wide.

The Tigers bounced right back to grind out 68 yards to score. Butting off small chunks of yardage, they relied to the three as the period ended, but on the first play of the second quarter Kwiatkowski sliced through right tackle to score. Eckel's placekick was good, but Toledo was offside.

Eckel, however, converted again and this time it stuck and Devilbiss led, 7-0.

The Potters were taking again but Sullivan fumbled on a reverse and Earl Jim Dase pointed on it for Toledo on the Potter 47. The Tigers drove to the one, but they were detected holding on the 10 and were set back to the 25.

It only prolonged matters a minute. Two Ales is tipped to the 19 and then Kwiatkowski roared through a big hole at right guard to score. Eckel's kick was good.

The Potters also matched that touchdown. They paraded 62 yards from the next kickoff. Oliver bit off 11 yards at right end to the Potter 40, and then Sullivan broke loose at left end for 30 yards to the Toledo 21. Oliver and Sullivan picked up a first down on the 10. O'Hanlon banged down on the five and Oliver came with an ancient handup.

Clippers Rip Rival, 50-13

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 7 (AP)—Columbiana broke out in a rash of touchdowns here Friday night when the Clippers snapped a three-game losing streak to bury Eckel's Springfield Township under a 50-13 score.

The Clippers chalked up two touchdowns in each period, and limited the visitors to scores in the final quarters.

Paul Alley ran end nine yards for the first Columbiana touchdown, and Fred Forney scampered 35 later in the period. In the second, Don McBride reeled off a nine-yard TD dash, and Jerry Funnie later scored his first of two touchdowns from the three. Bruce Miller ran for the extra point.

In the third, Funnie ran 12 yards for his second TD and Miller placekicked the point. John Laughlin bolted 29 yards later in the quarter.

Springfield's first tally came then on Earl Azim's two-yard plunge. Gost plunged for a point.

Rob Barnes wiggled loose for a 48-yard gallop in the fourth and Matt Powers capped the Clippers' scoring with a 14-yard scamper.

Mollenkopf intercepted a Clipper pass and raced over from the six for the second Springfield touchdown.

3 TD Passes In 3rd Victory

EAST PALESTINE, Oct. 7 (Special)—Held to a one-touchdown margin the first half, Lisbon's powerful Blue Devils struck for five TD's in the final half to rout East Palestine, 44-7, here Friday night before more than 3,000 fans.

Undefeated but tied once in four games, the Blue Devils chalked up their second Tri-County League victory in three starts. Boardman held them to a 7-7 tie last week. It was the second straight loss for the Bulldogs who had racked up two straight to start the season, one a league triumph.

A Bulldog fumble was converted into the first TD early in the opening period. Lisbon recovered on the Palestine 35, and on first play Quarterback Gary Pike pitched three touchdown passes, rifled his first one to End Henry Siefke. Carl Steitz booted the extra point from placement.

Palestine knotted it in the second quarter by driving 32 yards. The march was climaxed when Tommy Meek passed to Roland Edwards, who then lateraled to Harold Henderson for the score. The play covered six yards. Cliff Davis placekicked the extra point to deadlock the count.

The Blue Devils moved ahead to stay in the same period when Pike passed 40 yards to Steitz in the end zone. Steitz missed the conversion and Lisbon led at the half, 13-7.

Another Pike pass, again to Siefke, covered 30 yards and the third Lisbon TD in the third Steitz booted the point. Later, Gene Rose raced 42 yards for a score, but Lisbon was offside. Steitz, however, rammed the 42 yards on the next play. The try for the kick failed.

In the final period, Brown went four yards for a TD. White booted over from the two to cap a long march and Sonny Pike rammed over from the six for the third tally of the quarter.

Steelers Underdogs Against Browns Tonight

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7 (Special)—The Pittsburgh Steelers were named the underdogs in an important National League football contest with the Cleveland Browns in Forbes Field tonight. Kickoff was slated for 8:30.

The battle will mark a clash between two widely different systems—the T and the single wing—operated by two of the youngest and most successful coaches in the country.

The Browns will operate out of Coach Paul Brown's famed pass-and-trap offense and the Steelers will use the hard-hitting single wing taught by John Michelson, a disciple of the late Dr. John B. (Jack) Sutherland.

It will be the only chance of the season that western Pennsylvania fans will catch a glimpse of Otto Graham, the pass wizard from Northwestern University who led the Clevelanders to four straight titles in the All-American Conference in Dante Lovelli and Mac Speedie, he probably has the greatest duo of pass catching ends in professional history.

If the Steelers should throw up an adequate defense against this aerial attack, Graham will call upon the services of Marion Motley, 235-pound fullback, Ken Carpenter, fleet halfback from Oregon and Dopey Phelps, the former Kentucky breakaway ace, to continue the attack on the ground.

The Steelers will be handicapped by the loss of Bobby Gage, a triple-threat star, who suffered a torn cartilage in Pittsburgh's 26-7 win over the Washington Redskins last week. Gage probably will remain on the sideline for at least a few weeks and Joe Geri and Shorty McWilliams will share the tailback duties.

The Brooklyn Dodgers were involved in all three of the longest games ever played in the National League. The games went 26, 23 and 22 innings.

Bubble Bursts For Alliance

By International News Service

Not long ago, the Alliance Aviators had dreams of an unbeaten football season and all the fame and glory that go with it.

Today, the Aviators' hopes for such a fantasy lie shattered and broken. The villain in the Alliance picture is a high-ranking Barborton team (once mythical state champs themselves) that pounded out a 20-0 win over Alliance last night.

The win was Barborton's fourth straight. Dick Hunter hit Reed Welch for a touchdown from eight yards out in the first period, and Charley Mitchell added insult to injury by scoring twice on line plunges.

The Alliance loss takes the edge off the contest between the Aviators and Massillon next week. The Tigers last night chalked up their fourth win in as many starts by ripping through Steubenville, 35-12.

Canton McKinley's Bulldogs, also undefeated and high ranking, trounced Canton Lincoln, 32-0, but the game of the night was played in Circleville.

The Roundabouts, unbeaten in both 1948 and 1949, chalked up their 22nd straight victory without any doubts. When the scoring was over, the count stood: Circleville 89, Hillsboro, 0.

Coach Steve Brudzinski, who believes in getting ready for the next season at every opportunity, only kept his varsity in the game a little over one quarter. However, his reserves looked as good as the first string.

Butler county's hopes for state honors apparently rest with Hamilton's Big Blue. Hamilton trounced Martins Ferry, 59-0 last night, but neighboring Middletown went down to defeat by a 28-12 count to Springfield, already tied this year by Portsmouth.

Fundlay kept its record unblemished with a 14-0 win over strong Fremont Ross, and Warren shattered whatever hopes Mansfield had with a 19-6 win. Mansfield was beaten by Alliance last week.

Wellsville Ends Victory Famine, Rips Toronto Eleven, 22-7

Mixed Attack Breaks 13-Game Losing Skein

By BOB CURRY, Review Staff Writer

The football victory famine has ended in Wellsville. Determined to post a triumph which had eluded them for 13 straight contests, a fighting crew of Wellsville gridders proved to about 3,000 fans they could still win as they gained sweet revenge in trouncing the Toronto Red Knights, 22-7, Friday night at Nicholson Stadium.

Youthful Coach Charles "Chuck" Sell's gridders unleashed an effective running and passing attack that netted three touchdowns and gave the Bengals their first win under Coach Sell. The Bengals had dropped three straight this year since Coach Sell replaced Mike Rodak, who failed to win a single game in nine attempts in 1949.

The Bengals hadn't posted a victory since they defeated Tiltonville 19-13 in 1948 in the next to the last game of the season. The point production equalled the highest scored in 1948 when the Wellsville gridders defeated Jefferson Union, 22-0.

For Coach John Zimmerman, in his eighth year at the Gem City school, his crew went down to their fourth loss of the season and this was the first contest the Red Knights have been able to score.

With both Bob Mundy, who sparked the Bengals offense last week when they scored for the first time since the Salem game last year, and Joe LaScola operating in the backfield, the Bengals broke on top midway in the second quarter when they scored a safety.

A few minutes later Mundy heaved a 22-yard pass to Left End Kenny Brophy in the end zone and the Bengals carried a 9-0 lead to the dressing room. Coming back in the third session the Mundy-to-Brophy combination clicked for another marker on an 8-yard heave before the Red Knights hit pay dirt in the same period on a pass from Quarterback Earl Tarr to Left End Tom Sherwood. The play covered eight yards.

The final TD for the Wellsville team came late in the fourth quarter when Fullback Dick Sulkoske plunged over from the five.

In a scoreless first quarter, neither team could do much although the Bengals advanced to the Red Knights' 39, but Mundy fumbled and Toronto recovered. Mundy paid for his fumble when he intercepted Bob Fane's pass at the end of the period to give the Bengals the pigskin on their own 46.

In the second period the Wellsville defense intercepted two more passes but was unable to advance. On the second interception they moved to the Toronto 44. On fourth down Gene Williams punted and the Bengals recovered a break.

Halfback Warren Hawkins is playing safely, attempted to pick up the punt as it bounced near the three-yard line but the oval hit his leg and bounded into the end zone. Before he could carry it out a swarm of Black and Orange players nailed him for a safety and two points for the Bengals.

It took just three plays after that for the Bengals to score their first TD.

George Whitaker took Ken Farns free kick from the 20 on his own 38 and raced back to the Toronto 47. On a pitch out from Mundy, Whitaker raced to his right and passed to Right End Ronald Green on the Toronto 40, and he threaded the sideline marker before he was pushed out at the 22 for a 25-yard advance.

On the next play, Mundy passed to Brophy who shared the ball as he was falling into the end zone. Bob Foster converted but Wellsville was detected for having a back in motion and the freshman center scored again with the line of scrimmage at the seven.

The Bengals jubilantly carried a 9-0 lead to the locker room at the half.

The Wellsville crew got a break early in the third when the Red Knights, after having the four passes they tossed in the first half intercepted, finally completed one. Tarr completed a pass to Sherwood from the 28 to his own 45, but the end lateraled to Hawkins who fumbled and LaScola recovered for the Bengals on the Toronto 46.

After Mundy had passed to Brophy for a 36-yard gain to the 10, the Bengals scored in three plays. A pass, Mundy to Green, was knocked down but Whitaker picked up two yards around right end. The Mundy-to-Brophy combine then clicked again for a TD pass covering the last eight yards. Foster's enroute toe added the extra point.

The Red Knight came fighting back late in the period when they started a drive on the Bengal's 40 with the touchdown play coming on a 14-yard pass play from Tarr to Sherwood. Hawkins drove 15 yards on one play in the drive for the longest rushing gain for the Red Knights. His run put the ball on the 25.

In three plays the Toronto team pushed to the 14 from where the center play checked. Lastvika added the extra point from placement.

The Bengals held a 16-7 lead at the start of the final quarter.

Last Chance Today For Groggy Whiz Kids

Yanks To Pitch Eddie Ford, Rookie Flash

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP) — Same old "four straight" Yankees. The World Series now looks like the old days of 1927, '28, '32, '38 and '39.

After yesterday's third win over the luckless Phils, the Yanks were poised for the kill. You could get 50 to 1 if you liked the Phils in the series. One more Yankee win and it's over.

No club ever came back from three licks to win a championship. The Phils don't play like a team to break precedent. Every move they make backfires.

Eddie Ford, the Yank's "golden boy" of the stretch drive, is ready for today's fourth game at 1 p. m. The 21-year-old kid southpaw from Astoria, Long Island, N. Y., copped nine in a row before he finally lost one on relief.

Eddie Sawyer has two probable pitchers for his groggy National League champs. Bob Miller (11-8) and Bubba Church (8-6) are ready. Both are untired rookie right-handers seeing their first World Series.

It may be that Sawyer will switch to Jim Konstanty, his constant reliever. Jim pitched eight innings in the 1-0 opener and worked one-third of an inning in yesterday's 3-2 Yankee win. More likely Sawyer will start Miller and have Konstanty in the bullpen ready to hop into action at the first sign of weakening.

Flaws in defense cost the Phils the third game yesterday before 64,505 fans at Yankee Stadium. They outbit the Yanks for the first time, taking great liberties with Starter Ed Lopat. But they folded in the clutch.

Kenny Holmzelman, their grey-haired southpaw vet, took a 2-1 lead into the eighth inning. He had two out and nobody on base when his control deserted him. After walking Gerry Coleman on a 3-2 pitch, he passed Yogi Berra and Joe DiMaggio on eight straight balls.

Konstanty strode from the bullpen with the bases full. Yankee Manager Casey Stengel switched from Hank Bauer to Pinch Hitter Bobby Brown.

Big Jim made Brown hit a ground ball to shortstop that should have taken him out of the inning. But Gran Hamner fumbled the ball. He dropped it again as he tried to pick it up with his bare hand. Before he found the handle, Coleman was across the plate with the tying run.

Coleman, an inconspicuous .287 hitter in regular season, tightened his grip on the World Series hero title by a ninth-inning single to left center that broke up the game after Gene Woodling and Phil Rizzuto scratched infield singles.

Hamner's glaring error on an easy chance was the blow that ruined the Phils. But another error, on a bad throw by Andy Seminick in the third inning, made the Yanks' first score easier. A walk to Phil Rizzuto, a stolen base, Seminick's bad throw and a single by Coleman accounted for the first Yank run.

The Phils nibbled away at Lopat's soft pitches until they tied the score in the sixth on Del Ennis' double and Dick Sisler's single.

Hamner, leading series hitter at 500, could have been the hero instead of the goat in the important third game. He came up with three hits including a single that touched off a seventh-inning rally. Andy Seminick's sacrifice and Mike Goliat's single to center sent Hamner home with the run that put the Phils ahead for the first time in 28 innings of series play.

Again in the ninth, after his error permitted the Yanks to tie the score, Hamner lashed into the first pitch from Reliever Tom Ferrick for a double. Only a fine bare-handed stab on the bounce by Joe DiMaggio robbed Hamner of a triple or potential inside-the-park homer.

The Phils had Ferrick on the ropes when a hunt moved Hamner to third. Stengel ordered his pitcher to walk Goliat intentionally. Dick Whitman, batting for Konstanty, rapped to Joe Collins, who nipped Hamner at the plate. Then Eddie Waitkus fled to Cliff Mages for the third out.

Sawyer had dug deep into his reserves for pinch hitting and running talent in the ninth. So the veteran Jimmy Bloodworth went to second base in the last of the ninth. Russ Meyer went to the hill. Both moves proved wrong.

Meyer retired the first two men, but then Bloodworth juggled Woodling's slow roller for a scratch single. Jim made a fine diving stop of Rizzuto's hard bouncer, but again the ball went for a hit. Then Coleman dumped

Purdue Hopes To Blemish Notre Dame's Record Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP) — Notre Dame's reigning champions looked to blemish their 39-game unbeaten streak against formidable Purdue today.

Intersectional games occupied other members of college football's "top ten".

South Bend was the site of the latest renewal of this intense intra-Indiana rivalry dating back to 1896.

The Boilermakers, who held tauted Texas to a 34-26 edge last week, took heart in reports that the Fighting Irish aren't up to standard this year. The South Benders barely beat North Carolina last Saturday, 14-7.

Michigan State, rated second nationally on the strength of its triumphs over Oregon State and Michigan, entertained Maryland in the top intersectional clash of the day.

Southern Methodist, No. 3, moved into the Big Seven to take on Missouri, smarting under a 34-0 loss to Clemson.

Still another battle testing a fly ball between Jackie Mayo and Richie Ashburn for his game-winning single.

Four times in his career, Mel Ott was walked five times in a game.

74,000 Due Today As State Takes On Pitt

COLUMBUS, Oct. 7 (AP) — A couple of first game losers, Pittsburgh and Ohio State, attracted a crowd of 74,000 today.

The battling Bucks, eachred 32-27 by Southern Methodist's last-period passing attack last Saturday, were favored by two touchdowns over the Panthers, who dropped a 28-14 tilt to Duke a week ago.

Despite the two-touchdown edge granted by the odds-givers, Coach Wesley Foster of the Ohio club wasn't too confident his kids could master enough scoring power to overwhelm the Panthers.

And Len Casanova, the Pittsburgh mentor who is in the process of shifting his squad from the single wing to the "T" offense, wasn't ready to grant that the Bucks were two touchdowns better than his boys.

"We're a pretty good team until we begin to tire," Casanova said. "We don't use the two-platoon system and change only one man when we lose the ball. But our kids are eager and ready to go. We've lost some of our starters because of injuries, but we'll give 'em a battle as long as our first team is intact. Our passing attack isn't too good, but we can move on the ground."

The Bucks, Rose Bowl champions and co-title holders in the Big Ten, must win this one if they are to retain any of their 1949 Prestige.

Foster has shifted Vic Janowicz, his one-man gang, to left halfback to take advantage of his all-around running, passing and punting talent.

At quarterback, in the losing venture against S.M.U., Janowicz scored a touchdown, booted two field goals and threw the punting, kicking off and some of the passing for one of the most versatile performances in stadium history. He'll call the signals today from his tailback spot.

Billy Goodman Tops American Loop Hitters

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (UP) — Bouncing Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox, who was supposed to be just a stand-in for the great Ted Williams, completed one of the most amazing sagas in baseball history today by winning the unofficial batting championship of the American League with a .354 mark.

The National League title went, in no surprise, to Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals with an average of .346.

In both leagues, the defending champions finished second. George Kell of the Detroit Tigers was runner-up to Goodman with .341, and Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers was right behind Musial with .328.

The Washington Senators are so pleased with their 30-year-old Cuban pitcher, Sandalio Consuegra, they already have signed him to a 1951 contract.

In the Southern Conference, George Washington, sparked by the forward passing of Andy Davis, came through with two scoring marches in the final period to nip West Virginia, 21-14.

College of Pacific walloped Denver, 41-7, and Fresno State took Hawaii, 34-20.

Roger Peckinpah, former Washington Senator, holds the World Series record for most assists by a shortstop in a game—nine in 1921.

WHERE'S SANTA? Pert little 2-year-old Stephanie Ann Holmes wanted to find out how Santa Clause gets down the chimney. So, clutching her rag doll in one hand, she climbed this ladder to the top of a 20-foot chimney at Cincinnati. She sat on top the chimney and gaily called to her grandmother until firemen could arrive on the scene and carry her to safety.

Former All-America football guard Steve Suhey of Cazenovia, N. Y., has returned to Penn State as freshman line coach.

GREAT PAINTINGS by Hofman and Munkacsy inspired the figure of Jesus, held by sculptress Mabel Beaton. During the filming of a scene, specially-made controls add to the feeling of antiquity.

A GROUP of fascinated Larchmont, N. Y., youngsters find a film taken that all of the props, including masonry, water jars and house sequence for The Ten Talents engrossingly realistic. Elaborate care is furnishings, are reproductions in miniature of those in Biblical days.

PUPPETS GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

New Medium in Religious Education
Brings "Living Bible" to Children

"I WANNA GO to Sunday School!" is the new cry out of the mouths of children. It has come to be a place the kids never want to skip. Responsible, are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Beaton, a Rye, N. Y., artist-writer couple who conceived the idea of filming Bible stories, using puppets as actors.

Thus far, the husband-and-wife team has produced four such Biblical films, selected because of their appeal to children. Intended for television presentation, the puppet productions have proved so successful that they are now being distributed nationally among churches, schools and community organizations.

Mabel Beaton, well-known sculptress, creates the puppet figures, assisted by her husband, Leslie, a commercial art director, who paints the stage settings and the faces of the marionettes.

The figures are constructed of plastic wood, rubber composition, metal beading, cottons, silks and woolsens. They vary in height from 22 to 24 inches.

Settings and props are authentic down to the minutest detail, necessitating painstaking research, examination of famous paintings and consultations with historians.

The productions are "shot" in a Larchmont, N. Y., film studio.

The first four films, The Ten Talents, The Good Samaritan, The Lost Sheep and The Prodigal Son have received excellent response. According to a report from the Rev. Everett C. Parker, a religious radio commission director: "They not only are wonderful entertainment, but they fill a vital need in the field of religious education."

CLOTHES for the puppet figures made by Mrs. Beaton are designed for close camera scrutiny. Her husband, Leslie, an art director, paints the faces on the bearded puppet, Levi.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN—Thieves beset traveler on road to Jericho, rob and leave him helpless. Response from children: "Gee, this is as good as The Lone Ranger."

THE LOST SHEEP—Strings and woodwinds set the mood for story of the Good Shepherd who leaves his flock of 99 to hunt for the stray, a pet of his son.

RETURN OF THE PRODIGAL—Life-like figures enact story of the Prodigal Son, who squanders his wealth on a seductive dancer, then returns home to a joyous welcome.

FCC To Limit Network Time In TV Points

Position Of N.B.C. Brings Decision To Step Into Situation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission plans to regulate competition of the major television networks in cities having a limited number of stations.

The intent, the FCC said, is to prevent any one of the networks from dominating TV broadcasting time in those communities.

The announcement asserted a survey made last May showed a majority of the network time in the "limited cities" was held by National Broadcasting Co. and that the forthcoming action is designed to change that situation.

There are four major networks—N.B.C., Columbia Broadcasting System, American Broadcasting Co., and DuMont.

However, among the 40 cities now connected by coaxial cable or microwave relays for network purposes, 37 have fewer than four local outlets.

The May survey, according to the FCC, disclosed that N.B.C., during a sample week, furnished more network programs to 17 one-station communities than all the three other networks combined.

In three two-station communities, N.B.C. had 50 per cent of the broadcasting time, both afternoon and evening.

In six three-station cities, the commission said it found the situation was much the same as in the two-station centers.

Although the announcement made no reference to it, it was recalled that DuMont last winter complained that some N.B.C. network program policies tended to squeeze out competition. DuMont and C.B.S. both have asked the FCC to allocate cable relay space.

The proposal, not yet exactly blueprinted, would involve limitations on the time which any one limited-city station might allot to one network.

CONVENTS AT LISBON

LISBON, Oct. 7 (Special) — Members of the Middle Eastern District of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs met here today with the Lisbon Music Study Club as guests.

The business meeting was held this morning in the Presbyterian Church and Mrs. Dale Mason, president of the host club extended greetings to the guests.

Mrs. Alberta Kayser of Steubenville gave the response, and Mrs. John C. Ross of Newcomerstown, district president, presided for the business session.

A program of vocal and instrumental selections started the afternoon meeting.

In colonial America, bowls, mugs and pitchers were blown from blue, amber, brown or green glass. Replicas of these famous pitchers still are being made in American glasshouses today.

About 18 head of cattle left Friday for the American Royal livestock show at Kansas City, Walter Olson, livestock manager, said.

Church Decorated For Harvest-Home Festival Sunday

The 50th anniversary of the church of St. Stephen's Episcopal Parish will open Sunday at 11 a. m. with the Harvest-Home Festival service.

The sanctuary has been decorated with corn shocks, pumpkins, fruits and vegetables. Rev. Frederick T. Gillette will discuss "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come" at 11 a. m. The music will be of a Thanksgiving nature.

Other services tomorrow will include Holy Communion at 8 a. m., Church School at 9:40 a. m., and Youth Fellowship at 7:30 p. m. The annual Harvest-Home dinner will be served Monday from 5 to 7 p. m. St. George's Serbian Orthodox Choir of Midland will give a concert Tuesday and recognition of the older members will be featured on Wednesday. There will be an evening prayer service Thursday with Rev. Chester B. Emerson, dean of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, as the speaker. A square dance in the Parish Hall will be conducted Friday night.

The celebration will continue through Oct. 15 with a confirmation service by the Rt. Rev. Beverly D. Tucker, bishop of the Ohio Diocese.

Single Lutheran Church Seen 'Not Too Far Off'

COLUMBUS, Oct. 7 (AP)—The new president of the American Lutheran Church believes one Lutheran church in America is not too far off.

Dr. Henry F. Schuh, director of stewardship and finance for the church for nearly 20 years, was elected leader of more than 700,000 Lutherans yesterday at a meeting of the biennial convention in suburban Bexley.

"Perhaps I am an optimist," said Dr. Schuh.

"For many years, Lutherans thought about unity. Then, for many years, they talked about unity. Now it is becoming a matter of the heart, and that is why I think it is near."

Hillcrest Farms To Sell 60 Head Of Herefords Nov. 7

In the first sale in five years, C. A. Smith's Hillcrest Farms will sell 60 head of purebred Hereford cattle Nov. 7 at the big farm about two miles south of Chester on Route 2 near Pughtown.

One of the most prized herds in the country, the cattle to be sold will include offspring of two grand champions of the International Livestock Exposition, H. C. Larry Domino 12th won the title in 1947, and Hillcrest Larry 4th took the championship in 1949.

No estimate has been made of the number expected to attend, but inquiries have been received from cattle breeders throughout the country.

About 18 head of cattle left Friday for the American Royal livestock show at Kansas City, Walter Olson, livestock manager, said.

The Boston baked bean is believed to have originated with New England Indians.

A DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH? PERHAPS....

No one knows what ability or success a fourteen year-old will enjoy at twenty-five or forty-five . . . We do know, however, that young boys are at an impressionable stage . . . a stage in life when character and habits, habits which last a lifetime, are being formed.

Practical experience, something it is impossible to get in a schoolroom, is important to a boy who will, in a few years, be earning his own living. And we know of no better way for a boy to gain good practical business experience than through the lessons learned as a newspaperboy.

As he makes his rounds, delivering The Review, collecting from his subscribers, from you, each week, he's learning the value of dependability . . . how to get along with people . . . the value of the money he earns. He's learning the things that will make him a success in life.

Radiant Heat Expert To Talk To Ceramists

The Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society will hear an address by George F. Haines Jr. of the Industrial Hygiene Foundation at its October meeting Tuesday night at 8:15 in the auditorium of the Mellon Institute at Pittsburgh.

Mr. Haines will discuss: "The Evaluation and Control of Radiant Heat Exposures", using material gathered in a study of the glass bottle industry.

Radiant heat is an often neglected factor, although it has an effect on workers just as dust, gasses, fumes, mists and vapors, the Pittsburgh Section said. Mr. Haines will discuss controls developed by the Hygiene Foundation.

The population of Winnipeg, Canada, is 450,000.
